UTAMPA 201

Career Readiness

An important aspect of a liberal arts education is preparing students to be contributing members of a civil society. This includes providing skills and information to prepare students for life after graduation. We know that students are in various stages of their career readiness journey and we have designed a required career readiness course that will meet them where they are right now. It also provides the resources to help them in the future if they stay on the same career path, or choose to go a different direction. We encourage students to take this online course the semester following completion of their first-year experience course(s) so they can benefit from the resources provided throughout their college experience.

UTAMPA 201 Career Readiness (10 Module Course)

This online course will introduce students to resources that will help them determine their career goals, identify strategies for developing and articulating their Spartan Ready® competencies and develop a professional portfolio. It is recommended that the course be completed during their second year at The University of Tampa but must be completed before enrolling in their Spartan Studies Culminating Experience Course(s).

UNDERGRADUATE OUTCOMES

CAREER SERVICES CAREER AMBASSADORS

"I have had the privilege of serving as a career ambassador since Spring 2020 and was recently promoted to lead career ambassador in Fall 2022. As my time at UT comes to an end, I have realized that many of my favorite memories from college have been in the Office of Career Services. This role has challenged me to become an advocate for myself and others, to be a better public speaker, and the balance of both being on a team, and leading it, all while supporting me through my own career exploration. I have loved getting to know the students that come in the office and helping them on their personal career journeys. What I will take most from this role are the qualities of a supportive, inclusive, and healthy work environment, and the excitement and ease that comes with loving where you work."

TORI WALTERS

B.S. HISTORY AND CRIMINOLOGY - MINOR IN LEADERSHIP STUDIES
CLASS OF 2023

"I have had the honor of representing this University for the last three semesters as a career ambassador and now as a lead career ambassador for the Office of Career Services. This has been one of the most uplifting, gratifying, and memorable experiences of my life. Constantly connecting with my peers to help them develop their professional abilities through drop-ins and on-campus events all while seeing them reach their goals is a truly incredible feeling. To not only help others, but to see myself grow as a person in these roles by helping and connecting with others is something I will always be grateful for here at The University of Tampa."

LYLE KAMBACK

B.S. ALLIED HEALTH - MINOR IN EXERCISE SCIENCE AND SPORT STUDIES
CLASS OF 2025

"It has been both my honor and my pleasure to work in this office for the past three semesters. I began working in this office my freshman year, and I can honestly say it has been one of the best decisions I have made for my personal growth and fulfillment. It is so incredible to see students reach their goals and know that I helped them achieve those goals. I am so grateful for the experiences I have had in this position, the team I work with, and the students that utilize our office and entrust me to help them achieve their goals. This role has enabled me to grow so much, and I am excited to continue my journey with the Office of Career Services."

KAITLYN DEBIE

B.S. CRIMINOLOGY AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE - MINOR IN POLITICAL SCIENCE
CLASS OF 2024

CAREER SERVICES COMMUNITY IMPACT

"It has been a privilege to be able to have my office support me in joining the Emerging Leaders of Tampa Bay through the Tampa Chamber. I've had the opportunity to meet young professionals in the area and attend events that not only left me with valuable information, but I've been able to bring that information back to our Spartan community. Additionally, I've been lucky enough to be paired with a mentor through their mentor-protégé program. Having a brilliant community partner that I can learn from and have by my side has been such a pleasure. I couldn't recommend joining enough – you'll get tons of wisdom and an even bigger community."

Marissa Russo
Assistant Director of Career Readiness
Emerging Leaders

"The career development and college recruiting space is filled with so many great opportunities. Our regional association, SoACE, provides its members with professional development, knowledge sharing, industry trends, and the fostering of long-lasting relationships. I have benefited greatly from continued education and mentorship. Serving on the board of directors of SoACE is a tremendous honor. I have gained so much as a member myself and now it's my chance to give back. I look forward to supporting our members through our targeted knowledge groups. It's truly an exciting time for the profession as innovation, technology, and leadership continue to share the world of work."

Matt Battista
Manager of Employer Development
Member – SoACE Board of Directors

"I've served on the Workforce Development Committee for the past 7 years. Our charge is to develop workforce talent, advocate for new educational initiatives and encourage meaningful academic and business partnerships."

Kelly Allgeier
Associate Director of the Office of Career Services
Member – Workforce Development Committee, Tampa Bay Chamber of Commerce

CAREER SERVICES COMMUNITY IMPACT

"I have been involved in leadership roles with the National Association of Colleges and Employers (NACE) throughout my professional career. Serving in these roles provides an opportunity to not only contribute to the profession but to gain valuable insights and information from those with whom I have worked. Engagement in NACE has also been the foundation for building a global network of career services and talent acquisition colleagues who have served as resources, confidants and mentors."

Tim Harding

Assistant Vice President for Career Development and Engagement
Chair Elect for the National Association of Colleges and Employers (NACE)

"Over the past year, I have had the opportunity to be a part of the Emerging Leaders program through the Tampa Bay Chamber. Engaging in a variety of events such as panel discussions with industry professionals, volunteering, and employer site visits has provided me with a richer understanding of the diverse employers making an impact throughout the community. Additionally, I've further developed skillsets in networking, public speaking, and leadership as a growing professional. I look forward to continued involvement in this organization as I further my professional goals and strive to positively impact my work with students."

Christina Bevilacqua

Career Readiness Coach
Emerging Leaders

"This year's class really dug deep to understand what makes Tampa tick and how they can positively impact the community we all love. Leadership Tampa's 9-month journey provides class members with a unique opportunity to engage at a level most professionals in Tampa will never be able to experience. The impact of the program and this class will be incredible on this city for years to come."

Mark Colvenbach

Executive Director of the Office of Career Services
Leadership Tampa Chair, Class of 2023

SPARTAN STUDIES TASKFORCE

"Career exploration makes academic work more meaningful. Career awareness can give students the confidence to build the future they want. And career readiness can make the difference between students graduating to have professions and students graduating to have professions they are passionate about. Competency in career decision-making and skills can dramatically change the trajectory of one's life for the better."

Joan Ledbetter
Assistant Teaching Professor, First-Year Studies
The University of Tampa

"I'm excited UT students will encounter the various resources Career Services offers through the newly developed Spartan Studies course (UTAMPA 201). There will be something for everyone in the course, helping students make informed decisions about their future careers and preparing them for whatever they hope to do after UT."

Eric Freundt
Associate Professor of Biology
College of Natural and Health Sciences
The University of Tampa

SPARTAN STUDIES TASK FORCE

"The rapid pace of our evolving knowledge base makes it more important than ever that we go beyond traditional course content and value teaching our students transferrable skills. We need to help them reflect on how the experiences they are gaining at UT are preparing them for their careers and connect them with resources on and off campus to maximize career relevant experiences. If we simultaneously educate them with the field knowledge they need and help them build confidence through field related experiences, we increase students' chances of success once they leave UT. The partnership between faculty and the Office of Career Services is crucial to meeting this goal."

Meredith Elzy

Associate Professor of Psychology

College of Social Sciences, Mathematics, & Education

The University of Tampa

"Career Readiness prepares students to enter the workforce with skills demanded by organizations in a rapidly changing environment."

Speros Margetis
Professor of Finance
Sykes College of Business
The University of Tampa

SPARTAN STUDIES TASK FORCE

"As the internship coordinator in my department, I've seen firsthand how a liberal arts education balancing "learning by thinking" with "learning by doing" can prepare students to be successful in professional environments. This is why UT internships are grounded in learning objectives and courses like UTAMPA 201 Career Readiness are designed to help students identify transferable skills that will help them explore a variety of options for turning their interests into paths of lifelong learning as they grow into productive and responsible citizens. I was honored to serve on the faculty task force with the Office of Career Services and look forward to future collaborations that help our students get ready to identify and achieve their post-graduation goals."

Christopher Boulton

Associate Professor of Communication; Director of the Masters in Social and Emerging Media

The University of Tampa

"Students make a large financial investment to earn a college degree. A liberal arts education is worth the investment, in part, because of the transferrable skills that students learn within their courses. Communication, critical and creative thinking, teamwork, digital literacy, and understanding diverse perspectives are all part of a liberal arts education and are also in high demand by employers. Our goal is to not only help students learn these transferrable skills but also to help them understand why they are worth developing and how to demonstrate them to potential employers. The Career Readiness course, which is a required component of Spartan Studies, helps our students understand that their education gives them the opportunity to be career ready when they graduate."

SUCCESS STORY

DANIELLE TIROCCHI '23

"My experience with the Office of Career Services has been nothing short of exceptional. As president of Beta Alpha Psi, an esteemed accounting and finance honor society, I had the privilege of collaborating extensively with the office, particularly with Matt Battista. His unwavering guidance and support were instrumental in our organization's successful endeavors. From meticulously planning Meet the Firms to flawlessly executing weekly networking sessions, every interaction has been a pleasure. I cannot speak highly enough about Career Service's dedication to fostering a thriving environment for students' career development."
