

Come for your bachelor's ... finish with your master's

Accelerated Graduate Program for Communication Majors

Get a jumpstart on your career with a master's degree

Undergraduates majoring in communication have the unique option to enroll in UT's M.S. in Instructional Design and Technology program! In an accelerated 4+1 format, students may take two graduate-level classes during their senior year and then complete the M.S. program in just one additional year of study.

ADVANTAGES

- Earn both your bachelor's and master's degrees in five years and enter the workforce career-ready.
- Save money by taking two graduate courses at the undergraduate tuition rate.
- Application fee waived.
- Personal statement and references waived.
- Flexible evening and hybrid courses.
- Gain a competitive advantage for jobs.

SAMPLE COURSES

- Trends and Issues in Instructional Design and Technology
- Media for Instruction
- Open Learning Environments in the 21st Century
- Development of Multimedia Instruction
- Intro to Distance Learning

MAKE YOURSELF STAND OUT IN A GROWING AND LUCRATIVE FIELD

UT's cutting-edge M.S. in Instructional Design and Technology program prepares students from diverse academic backgrounds to become experts in the creation of instructional resources to improve learning and performance. Graduates practice their unique profession in a variety of settings, including business, government, higher education and K–12 schools, in jobs with starting salaries around $60,000.

To learn more, visit ut.edu/IDT, email grad@ut.edu or call (813) 253-6249.