CAEP Annual Reporting Measures
Educational Leadership
Program
2020

The Educator Preparation Program (EPP) at The University of Tampa strives to maintain the highest of standards as it prepares its completers to go into leadership roles in the School District of Hillsborough County, across the state of Florida, and this country to positively impact lives of young people. The EPP supports the state accreditation standards as defined by the Florida Department of Education, and the national accreditation standards as defined by the Council for the Accreditation of Educational Preparation, CAEP.

CAEP \(Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation\) has eight annual reporting measures that are used to provide information to the public on both program impact (Measures 3-4 for Advanced Programs) and program outcomes (Measures 5-8). The eight measures (six of which apply to the Educational Leadership Program) are:

Measure 1: Impact that completers' teaching has on P-12 learning and development (NA for EDL)

Measure 2: Indicators of teaching effectiveness (NA for EDL)

Measure 3: Results of employer surveys, and including retention and employment milestones

- Principal survey — a survey of principals' perception of recent UT graduates' preparation in the region served by the university.

Measure 4: Results of completer surveys

- Graduate survey — a survey of educational leaders one year after graduation from a UT teacher preparation program.

Measure 5: Graduation rates from preparation programs

- Completer graduation rates — including rates for successful completion of candidates, by program area.

Measure 6: Ability of completers to meet licensing (certification) and any additional state requirements

- State licensure exam results — including passage rates and mean scores by year and program area.

Measure 7: Ability of completers to be hired in education positions for which they are prepared

- Survey of employment — employment rates and average salaries of UT graduates

Measure 8: Student loan default rates and other consumer information

- UT cohort default rate — University-wide rate of default on student loans for the years 2016 - 2020, based on data provided by the Office of Federal Student Aid
- Tuition cost estimator — tuition costs per year of enrollment. Provided by the UT Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships.

The Department of Education at the University of Tampa recognizes the importance of providing reliable and accurate information on its Educator Preparation Programs (EPP) to the public. This information serves as the EPP's demonstration of accountability to stakeholders and provision of transparent information to potential candidates.

#3 Satisfaction of Employers and Employment Milestones

The Employer Satisfaction Survey for M.Ed. (EDL) completers is based on the Florida Principal Leadership Standards (FPLS) which are aligned to the NELPs and requires respondents to rate the EPP's candidates along a four point Likert scale with descriptors moving from: "Ineffective", "Not Very Effective", "Effective", "Very Effective". Principals are asked to rate their satisfaction with the EPP's completers a minimum of one year after the completer has graduated from the program.

The survey results provide insight into the UT Educator Preparation programs and the ways in which employers of graduates in their first and second year of employment feel the program has equipped the graduates for the profession. Results of the survey increased knowledge of employer satisfaction with UT graduates, particularly the graduates' performance aligned to state and national standards of excellence in the field of Educational Leadership. Through using these results, the UT EPP can continue to excel in areas in which graduates are thriving and work to improve the areas that employers view as less successful.

On the table below, please indicate your perception of this teacher's overall preparedness for teaching by marking a check in the appropriate cell using the following rating key:

- 1 – Unacceptable – demonstrates little to no mastery.
- 2 – Progressing – demonstrates some level of mastery.
- 3 --Accomplished – demonstrates satisfactory mastery.
- 4 – Exemplary – demonstrates outstanding mastery.

Comments – Your comments are welcomed and serve to guide the University of Tampa's Educational Leadership Master's Program in continuous improvement efforts.

9. Diversity: understands, responds to, and influences the personal, political, social, economic, legal, and cultural relationships in the classroom, the school and the local community. *			33.3	66.7

Comments:

- Although not in a leader role yet at [REDACTED], [REDACTED] has shown the ability to lead amongst his team and in his classroom.
- [REDACTED] is an outstanding leader within the school and the community.
- [REDACTED] has worked at [REDACTED] for 1 year in the capacity of Reading Coach, which is a leadership position at the school. Although it is not an administrative position, I was still able to complete this survey based on the work performance observed this year.

#4 Satisfaction of Completers

The EPP annually conducts two separate studies of completer satisfaction. The first survey, The Program Exit Survey, is completed by completers at graduation and asks them to reflect on their feelings of preparedness to enter a leadership role in an educational setting. The second survey, the Completer Satisfaction Survey is disseminated to program completers who have been in leadership roles one, two, or three years post-graduation in April/May of each academic year. The results from both surveys from the 2019-2020 academic year are included below.

The EPP acknowledges that each cohort will respond differently to each of the question items in the respective surveys based on the cohort's experiences. The Graduate Committees within the EPP through the semesterly Classroom Climate Evaluations, as well as instructor input respond in a timely fashion to each cohort's instructional needs by analyzing the survey data and using it to inform continuous improvement goals.

Category Five: General

Directions: Please answer the following questions to the best of your ability, and again, thank you for your input.

- How would you rate the overall Educational Leadership preparation you received at The University of Tampa?
Ineffective: ___ Not Very Effective: ___ Effective: ___ Very Effective: ___ 100% ___
- What do you believe to be the most valuable or useful aspect of your preparation?
 1. The opportunity to discuss, collaborate, and problem solve not just with the cohort but with faculty as they are IN the field as well.
 2. I am very thankful that I chose this program to receive my Masters in Educational Leadership. This program has helped to grow as a leader not only in confirming what I already know, but also in what I want to continue to improve upon.
 3. Instructors that were principals in the county
 4. Thank you to all in the Ed. Leadership Dept, we have learned so much from your high level of expertise and I feel extremely prepared to enter the administrative field.
 5. All the hands-on experiences the internship and Ed leadership courses provided.
 6. Overall, I had a great experience at the University of Tampa. I feel the small class sizes, hands on experiences, and knowledge base of the professors prepared me very well for the FELE.
 7. The manner in which the assignments are applicable to job responsibilities.
 8. I believe that most valuable aspect of my preparation was the internship opportunity. The built in internship allowed me to get in the moment experiences that aligned with the courses I was taking. The most beneficial was the Educational Leadership course. An area of focus for me is learning how to become an instructional coach. This course coupled with my internship experience allowed me to engage with observation rubric and have real time practice as a future administrator.
 9. Professors using real experiences as examples of course content was very valuable.
 10. My experience as an Ed. Leadership student was wonderful. The experiences shared by both cohorts and instructors were good teaching points and offered different ways to problem solve. The program also helped develop relationships which will now be professional contacts. The overall experience was a wonderful learning opportunity and professional preparation.
- Is there a program area you feel needs to be changed or improved?
None reported.
- Is there any area(s) of teaching that was not addressed in your preparation program? If so, specify components that would be appropriate.
None reported.

Q: In retrospect, what do you believe to be the most valuable or useful aspect of your educational leadership preparation?

Answers:

- The internship and having instructors that were administrators. The insight brought by the instructors that are/have been leaders in Hillsborough county is not something that can be learned from a book, and I believe that is what sets UT apart from online M.Ed courses.
- pushing us to think outside of the school sites where we work, so we were able to look at education as a whole, not in the school bubble, so I feel ready to move sites if an opportunity arises.
- Instructional Leadership class and FELE writing prep
- The program allowed me a cohort to learn, grow, and collaborate on ideas about becoming a school based leader. Since we all had different work backgrounds, we were able to take the leadership scenarios and apply them to our own situations. Very supportive group of students all working toward a similar goal.
- UT EDU network with local schools/district
- Learning to collaboratively problem solve

Q: Was there any area of educational leadership that was not addressed in your program? If so, specify components that would have been appropriate.

- no
- I feel as though I had the knowledge to be a leader when I graduated, but I lacked the leadership experience. Looking back, I wish I would have tried to create more teacher leader roles for myself. The internship was the most valuable part of the program. To improve the internship I would recommend teacher leader roles being added (or finding ways to create your own) as a more of a focus and to start them as soon as possible.
- N/A
- Physical demands of the job, like breaking up fights, crisis management in a real world scenario, or grief counseling to students and parents.
- School Equity/Diversity

Outcome Measures

#5 Graduation Rates

The completion graduation rate is defined as the rate at which candidates successfully complete courses to include the embedded internship and successfully pass the Florida Educational Leadership Exam (FELE) compared with the number of candidates who are admitted to the EPP after having met all application criteria.

Analysis and Results:

M.Ed. EDL candidates may take up to 7 years to complete their graduate program. The quickest a candidate can progress through the M.Ed. EDL program is 13 months, though if a candidate completes their studies as a part-time student, finishing the degree may take longer. The percentages reported in the tables below represent candidates who had completed the program (all coursework, the internships, and the FLDOE licensure exam (FELE)). The overall percentage rate for the M.Ed. EDL program graduates in 2019-2020 was 60%.

Semester: Admitted in Spring/Summer 2018- Graduated in Fall 2019

Program	# Admitted into EDU Department	# Graduated	% Percentage
M.Ed. Educational Leadership (Sp '18)	4	1	25%
M.Ed. Educational Leadership (Su '18)	3	3	100%

Semester: Admitted in Fall 2018 – Graduated in Spring 2020

Program	# Admitted into EDU Department	# Graduated	% Percentage
M.Ed. Educational Leadership	16	9	56%

#6 Ability of Completers to Meet Licensing (Certification) and any Additional State Requirements

For all of the teacher licensure areas in which UT offers programs, Florida contracts with Pearson to provide licensure exams. They are offered at various times throughout the program. Candidates in the M.Ed. (Educational Leadership) program are required to pass the Florida Educational Leadership Exam (FELE). This exam also serves as a graduation requirement.

Scores are reported for the 2019-2020 academic year in the table below. For each exam, mean scores, and the passing rates for candidates are reported.

Graduate: Educational Leadership Program
