

Amy C. Johnson, MPAS, PA-C

EDUCATION

University of Florida College of Medicine
Masters of Physician Assistant Studies

June 2013

University of Florida
Bachelor of Science, Food Science and Human Nutrition

May 2010

PROFESSIONAL WORK EXPERIENCE

Physician Assistant, Emergency Department

Aug. 2015 – Current

St Anthony's Emergency Department/Bayside Emergency Physicians- St Petersburg, FL

- Performs history, physical exam, diagnosis, treatment, and disposition of patients
- Provides comprehensive care in triage, fast track, and high acuity areas
- Performs laceration repair, incision and drainage, tonometry, slit lamp exam, wound care, pelvic exams
- Interprets EKGs, radiology tests, lab results
- Collaborates with health care team including ER physicians, nurses, radiologists, hospitalists, specialist physicians, social workers, and other allied health professionals

Physician Assistant, Family Medicine

Dec. 2013 – May 2015

University of Florida Eastside Family Medicine, Gainesville FL

- Provided outpatient primary care to complex patients including urgent care, chronic disease management, preventative care, and hospital/ER follow-up visits
- Performed comprehensive medical care including obtaining history, performing physical exams, ordering diagnostic evaluations, diagnosis, and treatment
- Collaborated daily with multi-disciplinary team including University of Florida faculty, physicians, on-site pharmacist, social worker, and nurses
- Worked with underserved, low-socioeconomic population providing counseling and education
- Supervised University of Florida medical students in the clinic setting

Clinic Assistant

May 2010 – May 2011

UF Physicians/Shands Pediatric Specialties Clinic, Gainesville FL

- Obtained patient vitals, directed room flow, performed point-of-care testing
- Performed triage, diabetic testing, and office responsibilities for pediatric endocrinology clinic
- Assisted pediatric specialty physicians in the areas of endocrinology, hematology/oncology, genetics, gastroenterology, surgery, neurology, and nephrology

SKILLS

- Consistently delivers excellent patient care
- Establishes rapport with diverse demographic of patients
- Received exemplary yearly evaluations from supervising physicians
- Proficient with EMR, Cerner, and EPIC
- Laceration repair, incision and drainage, wound care, foreign body removal

Amy C. Johnson, MPAS, PA-C

HONORS / SCHOLARSHIP

Most Outstanding Physician Assistant Academic Student	2013
University of Florida, Cum Laude	2010
Florida Academic Scholars Award	2006-2010

VOLUNTEER WORK

Cuddlers Volunteer Shands at UF 2010 - 2011

- Rocked, held, and cuddled babies to help foster early development.
- Assisted with some stocking, folding blankets, and preparing paperwork for new arrivals.

VA Hospital Volunteer, Gainesville FL (20+ hrs) 2009 - 2010

- Shadowed physician's assistant, observed ophthalmology procedures and patient education to veterans.

Shands at UF Volunteer (Total 140+ hrs) 2008 – 2009

- ER (90+ hrs) Cleaned beds, transported patients, stocked supplies
- MICU (30+ hrs) Assisted staff at the nurses station, answered phones, stocked supplies

Shands AGH Volunteer, Pediatrics (25+ hrs) 2007

- Played games with kids of all ages, rocked and fed infants, assisted with playroom activities

Suncoast Hospice Volunteer, Palm Harbor FL (75+hrs) 2005 - 2006

- Volunteered in Hospice thrift shop, participated in community activities

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Florida Alternative Breaks- Child Healthcare Trip Jan. 2010

- Volunteered with Give Kids the World Village and worked with terminally-ill children and their families.

Nutrition Education and Construction Mission Trip March 2009

Managua, Nicaragua

- Aided in nutrition program and child afterschool program. Delivered food and assisted with construction

Medical Aid Mission Trip May 2008

La Ceiba, Honduras

- Helped with a free local clinic and worked with at-risk children

LEADERSHIP EXPERIENCE

Clinic supervision of University of Florida College of Medicine students 2014

- Assisted with precepting medical students in UF family medicine clinic

Small Group Leader, Gator Christian Life 2007-2010

- Facilitated group discussions and bible study for campus ministry

Supervised Teaching for Introduction to Chemistry course at University of Florida 2010

- Attended lectures, answered questions, graded worksheets, proctored exams

Middle School Camp Supervisor, Fruitland Park, FL 2009

- Supervised 160- 220+ middle school campers, and 30+ counselors for 9 weeks.
- Planned, wrote, and organized their schedules and activities, maintained budget

Amy C. Johnson, MPAS, PA-C

PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS

American Academy of Physician Assistants	2014
Florida Academy of Physician Assistants	2012-2016

CERTIFICATIONS

National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants (NCCPA)	2013-current
Florida Physician Assistant State License	2013-current
Advanced Cardiac Life Support	2012-current
Basic Life Support	2006-current
Certified Nursing Assistant in the State of Florida	2009-2012
Lifeguard/ Waterfront/ First Aid certified by American Red Cross	2007-2009

CLINICAL ROTATIONS

Pediatrics	Acute Care Pediatrics, Palatka, FL	July 2012
General Surgery	Malcolm Randall VA, Gainesville, FL	August 2012
Urgent Care I	St. John's Urgent Care, Palatka, FL	September 2012
Psychiatry	Shands Hospital, Gainesville, FL	October 2012
Internal Medicine I	Malcolm Randall VA, Gainesville, FL	November 2012
Intensive Care	Shands Hospital, Gainesville, FL	December 2012
Emergency Medicine I	Manatee Memorial, Bradenton, FL	January 2013
Internal Medicine II	Malcolm Randall VA, Gainesville, FL	February 2013
Emergency Medicine II	North Florida Regional, Gainesville, FL	March 2013
Primary Care II	Pensacola Navy Hospital, Pensacola, FL	April 2013
Emergency Medicine III	Shands Hospital, Gainesville, FL	May 2013
OB/GYN	Shands Hospital, Jacksonville, FL	June 2013