The University of Tampa Brand Guidelines provides instruction on the use of UT’s logo, typography and style, and offers a framework to creatively produce effective marketing tools. These guidelines are intended for anyone producing communication, marketing or branding materials for The University of Tampa. Adherence to these graphic standards ensures the UT brand will remain strong and recognizable. The Office of Public Information and Publications can offer guidance and provide boundaries within which to use the marks.

Institutional Marks

University Logos are available upon request and are available in various color options (full color, black and white, reversed out, etc.) Contact Erin Dixon, art director, Office of Public Information and Publications, at edixon@ut.edu with any requests.

PLANT HALL LOGO
This is our primary institutional mark. However, due to its detail it may not be appropriate for certain uses, such as printing in small sizes or on darker backgrounds.

WORDMARK
When the Plant Hall logo is unable to be used for design or reproduction reasons, the UT Wordmark can be used. The Wordmark is well-suited for use on apparel and promotional items.

UT MINARET
The same color must be used for the minaret, text and rule components. This mark can also be reversed out of a dark background and is well-suited for use on apparel and promotional items.

SINGLE MINARET
The single minaret is a good choice when the strong horizontal shape of the other logos doesn’t fit into a design well. When using the single minaret, reference to The University of Tampa must be included somewhere on the page or item.

UT SEAL
The University seal is reserved for academic and ceremonial uses only and requires authorization from the Office of Public Information and Publications. Examples include diplomas and transcripts.
UNIVERSITY LOGOS

Athletic Marks

Athletic marks have been developed specifically for athletics use, but can be used in other University print materials or on items as well.

SPARTAN CIRCLE
The Spartan Circle is the primary UT athletic mark.

SPARTAN HEAD
When using the Spartan Head logo, reference to The University of Tampa somewhere on the page or item is recommended.

INTERLOCKING UT
Due to its simplicity, the interlocking UT is ideal for small applications.
Customized Marks

Customized marks are available upon request. Samples of the various options are at right. If you would like a customized mark for your department, please contact Erin Dixon, art director, Office of Public Information and Publications, at edixon@ut.edu.
CLEAR SPACE AND SIZING

When using one of the official University of Tampa logos, it should be surrounded with an area of clear space to ensure its visibility and impact. No graphic elements of any kind should appear within this space.

Logo Clear Space

Using the clear space and size guidelines below ensures the UT logos are always prominent and visible. The minimum clear space is measured on all sides of any UT logo, and should be no less than .2 inches.

Minimum Logo Sizes

Logos must not be used any smaller than shown for print.
INCORRECT LOGO USAGE

Do not change the University logos in any way. Use only the official logos.

Incorrect Logo Usage

Below are a few examples of incorrect logo usage.

Never skew the logos

Never distort the logos

Never rotate the logos

Never change the font of the logos

Never change the color of the logos

Never create a new logo from an official logo

The mission of The University of Tampa’s licensing program is to protect and promote the UT brand and to ensure the public can properly identify and associate the University’s name and logos with officially licensed products bearing the University’s marks.

UT’s licensing program ensures that UT’s brand identity is properly represented on products and services marketed to both the University community and the public. The licensing program is responsible for determining if a product and/or design are consistent with the goals and image of UT. The program also ensures the quality, content, production and distribution of products meets UT’s standards. UT contracts with Learfield Licensing Partners to help coordinate its licensing program.

The licensing program is a resource for all members of the UT community and the vendors who work with the University and was designed to ensure consistent and appropriate use of UT’s visual identity.

All UT trademarks are the property of The University of Tampa.

All licensed items must be approved by the Office of Public Information and Publications. If you have an item for approval, or questions about licensing, please contact Erin Dixon, art director, Office of Public Information and Publications, at edixon@ut.edu.

For more information, please visit the licensing page at www.ut.edu/licensing.
All external publications must be reviewed by the Office of Public Information and Publications for copy and branding prior to being produced. Please allow time in your schedule for the Office of Public Information and Publications to review.

The guidelines are based on the Associated Press (AP) Stylebook, Webster’s New World Dictionary and local usage. In cases of conflict, The University of Tampa Style Guide supersedes the AP Stylebook and AP supersedes Webster’s. Entries address questions that may commonly arise when writing about the University, such as building and place names and proper reference to various University entities. Consult the AP Stylebook or Webster’s Dictionary for further reference.
